

The Art and Science of Donor Development (ASDD) A Virtual and Distance Learning Experience

This five-part workshop is ideal for seasoned professionals and newer development staff alike as a powerful means of connecting to the heart of philanthropy. During five 2.5-hour sessions, participants will join an interactive web platform where they can explore the groundbreaking concepts in a facilitator-led, virtual classroom. Discover a donor-centered process for facilitating engagement that leads to commitment to targeted organizational priorities through group discussions, video case studies, pre-work assignments, and opportunities for post-workshop action planning.

Advancement Resources' training content is derived from proprietary research and intense, indepth interviews and observations among top development professionals, academic and medical leaders, and major donors.

Structure

Classroom Engagements

Participants will attend five 2.5-hour sessions in a real-time virtual classroom. This experience features networking opportunities, application exercises, and interactive facilitator support.

Sessions are scheduled for each individual workshop offering, with five sessions taking place over a one-week period. Participants in each cohort should be prepared to attend all sessions, as this is not a webinar, and interactivity is essential to the success of the experience.

Pre- and Post-Work Assignments

Prior to the workshop, participants will be asked to complete a pre-work assignment. Additionally, participants have the opportunity to create and complete additional application exercises.

Technical Requirements

Participants should use the Zoom™ application, following download instructions as prompted from the web browser of their choice. Participants should be prepared to use headphones with a microphone and/or speakers, a keyboard, and a consistent Wi-Fi connection.
